

SOS CHILDREN'S VILLAGES

For Marion Matheka, the year 2023 marks a significant milestone in her career as she celebrates a decade of steadfast commitment to SOS Children's Villages in Kenya. As a Sponsorship Officer, Marion has played a pivotal role in fostering relationships, raising funds, and contributing to the organization's noble cause of providing safe and loving homes for children in need.

Since joining SOS Children's Villages in Kenya on 7th July 2013, Marion has utilized her diverse skill set to make a lasting impact. Holding a BCom degree in Marketing from Egerton University, Marion also possesses a keen eye for photography and videography, leveraging these skills to create captivating content for fundraising purposes.

What keeps Marion motivated and dedicated to her work at SOS Children's Villages in Kenya is the opportunity to witness first-hand the transformative journey of children growing up in a safe and loving home environment. The joy and fulfilment she experiences in being a part of their lives are immeasurable, as she witnesses them flourish and thrive under the care and support of the SOS family.

Moreover, Marion appreciates the organization's adherence to robust policies and guidelines. These frameworks ensure the smooth running of SOS Children's Villages and serve as a compass, guiding every decision and action towards the best interests of the children.

Every day, Marion feels a deep sense of purpose as she passionately raises funds to help achieve SOS Children's Villages' vision—a world where every child belongs to a family and grows with love, respect, and security. Through her dedication and tireless efforts, Marion actively contributes to achieving the organization's vision where every child belongs to a family and grows with love, respect and security.
