By Jonathan Wamanji

Embarking on a 10-month journey at SOS Children's Villages in Kenya, Isaac Mithamo Gachuhi, a dedicated Senior Procurement Officer, has made a remarkable difference in ensuring seamless procurement processes within the organization. With his expertise and commitment, Isaac ensures that all procurement policies and procedures are diligently followed by everyone at SOS Children's Villages in Kenya.

Armed with a BCom degree in Finance and currently pursuing his MSc in procurement and logistics from JKUAT, Isaac brings a wealth of knowledge and passion to his role. As an approval authority, he meticulously reviews and approves all procurement requests, guaranteeing that every step is aligned with the organization's guidelines.

Beyond his core responsibilities, Isaac extends his support to the five villages located in Meru, Eldoret, Kisumu, Mombasa, and Nairobi, assisting in procurement and asset management. His dedication to creating effective solutions and driving progress in the right direction is deeply rewarding for him.

One of Isaac's remarkable contributions is the implementation of framework agreements. These agreements have streamlined the process for program teams when they venture into the field. With locked-down agreements for one year, program teams now only need to check for availability, ensuring smooth operations and efficient use of resources. This strategic approach enhances the organization's ability to fulfil its mission of supporting vulnerable children.

He believes that these principles are the driving force behind the organization's success in positively impacting the lives of vulnerable children.
