

SOS CHILDREN'S VILLAGES

Caleb's journey of care, dedication and nurturing

In July 2009, Caleb Odhiambo Oliech embarked on a life-changing journey with SOS Children's Villages in Kenya. This opportunity not only transformed his own life but also brought hope and support to countless vulnerable children and youth.

Before joining SOS Children's Village in Kenya, Caleb worked as a security guard at the location where the organization's National Office stands today. One fateful day, a knock at the gate introduced him to three individuals seeking a new office location. Caleb graciously showed them around the empty house that would become the future National Office of SOS Children's Villages in Kenya.

The then owner of the house had one condition for the organization to secure the property—they had to absorb Caleb as a member of their team. Following a meticulous interview process, Caleb emerged as the top choice among eight candidates. Thus, his journey with SOS Children's Villages began in July.

As a dependable Caretaker at the SOS Children's Villages in the Kenya National Office since 2009, Caleb fulfils his responsibilities related to donations, fundraising and maintaining the physical premises.

With attention to detail, Caleb ensures the fences surrounding the office compound are well groomed, creating a safe and welcoming environment for all visitors.

Caleb also nurtures the plants and green spaces around the National Office, tending to them with care and ensuring their vibrancy. His efforts add a touch of natural beauty to the surroundings, enhancing the atmosphere of the office.

Working at SOS Children's Villages in Kenya brings immense joy and fulfilment to Caleb's life. He witnesses firsthand how the organization's culture and tireless efforts extend beyond the walls of their villages. Through programs like the family strengthening initiative, SOS not only supports children and youth but also uplifts the entire community.

Caleb is grateful for the opportunity to be part of an organization that deeply cares for those who need it the most. His journey, which began with a chance encounter and a shared vision, has become a lifelong commitment to ensuring the wellbeing and happiness of vulnerable children and youth in Kenya.
